CHARTER.

An Act for Incorporating the Trustees of Hampden-Sydney.

[MAY, 1783.]

---

I. WHEREAS it is represented to the present General Assembly, that an Academy has been founded in the county of Prince Edward, and which hath been supported by the generous donations of a few public-spirited citizens for several years past; but that, in order to make the advantages arising therefrom more permanent and diffusive, certain privileges are essentially necessary for conducting the same in future to greater advantage; and this Assembly, warmly impressed with the important advantages arising to every free State by diffusing useful knowledge amongst its citizens, and desirous of giving their patronage and support to such seminaries of learning as may appear to them calculated to promote this great object:

II. Do hereby enact, That from and after the passing of this Act, the said Academy shall obtain the name and be called the "College of Hampden-Sydney," and that the Rev. John Blair Smith, Patrick Henry, William Cabell, Senior, Paul Carrington, Robert Lawson, James Madison, John Nash, Nathaniel Venable, Everard Meade, Joel Watkins, James Venable, Francis Watkins, John Morton, William Morton, Thomas Reade, William Booker, Thomas Scott, Senior, James Allen, Samuel Woodson Venable, Joseph Parke, Richard Foster, Peter Johnston, the Rev. Archibald McRoberts, and their successors, are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate, by the name of the "President and Trustees of Hampden Sydney College," who shall have perpetual succession and a common seal; and that they and their successors, by the name aforesaid, shall be able and capable in law to possess, purchase, receive, and retain to them and their successors forever, any lands, tenements, rents, goods, or chattels, of any kind whatsoever, which may have been given already, or shall in future be given or purchased by them, for the use of the said College, and the same to dispose of in whatsoever manner they shall adjudge most beneficial for the use thereof; and by the same name to sue and implead, be sued and impleaded, answer and be answered, in all courts of law and equity, and from time to time, under their common seal, to make and establish such by-laws, rules, and ordinances, not being contrary to the Constitution or laws of this Commonwealth, as by them shall be thought necessary for the good order and government of the professors, masters, and students of the said College.

III. And be it further enacted, That the said President and Trustees, or any seven of them, shall have full power and authority to meet at such times as they shall think necessary for the examination of any candidates for literary degrees, and they are hereby empowered and authorized to confer those degrees on such students as in their opinion shall merit the same, in as ample a manner as any other college in America can do, and to grant testimonials thereof under their common seal, signed by the president and five of the trustees at least; and that the president and trustees, or any seven of them, are hereby authorized and required to meet at said College, on some day to be appointed by the president, on or before the first day of October next, and then and there to elect and commission, under their common seal, such professors and masters as they shall judge necessary for the purposes of the institution. And that, in order to preserve in the minds of the students that sacred love and attachment which they should ever bear to the principles of the present glorious revolution, the greatest care and caution shall be used in electing such professors and masters, to the end that no person shall be so elected unless the uniform tenor of his conduct manifests to the world his sincere affection for the liberty and independence of the United States of America.

IV. And be it further enacted, That the president and trustees, or any ten of them, shall elect by ballot a treasurer for the said College, who shall give bond and security, payable to the trustees and their successors, for the faithful discharge of the trust reposed in them; and shall, when required by the corporation, render an account of all monies, goods, and other chattels, received and expended by him on account of and for the use of said College; and on failure or refusal so to do, shall be subject to the like proceedings as are prescribed by law in the case of sheriffs failing to account for and pay into the treasury the public taxes on their hands.

V. And be it further enacted, That the said trustees, or a majority of them, shall have power to remove or suspend the president, or any or all the masters, at any time, on cause shown, and to supply the vacancy occasioned by such removal from office; and upon the death, resignation, or refusal to act, of the president or any of the trustees, or when there shall be a vacancy in any of the professorships, it shall be lawful for the remaining trustees, or a majority of them, to supply the same by new elections. It shall also be lawful for the president, or, in case of death, resignation, or refusal in him to act, the professors and masters for the time being, or a majority of them, to call a meeting of the trustees when he or they (as the case may be) shall see cause so to do. Provided, nevertheless, That the president and trustees, before they enter upon the execution of the trust reposed on them by this act, shall severally take the following oath or affirmation, to be administered by a justice of the peace of the said county of Prince Edward, and by him certified to the court of the said county, there to be recorded; that is to say: "I, A. B., do swear (or affirm) that I will, to the best of my skill and judgment, faithfully and truly discharge the duties required of me by the 'Act for Incorporating the Trustees of Hampden-Sydney,' without favor, objection, or partiality. So help me God." And that the clerk of the said court, for entering the same, shall receive of the trustees the sum of one Spanish milled dollar.

 Bible Studies—Smith's History of the New Testament.

SECOND TERM.

Analytical Geometry, Solid—Venable's Notes.
 Original Problems in Mathematics.
 Chemistry—Lectures, and text-books as in First Term. Wagner's Technology (elective).
 Latin—Latin Grammar, Latin Prose Composition, Tacitus, Agricola, or Quintilian's Instit. Orat., lib. x.
 Greek—Euripides; Demosthènes; Greek Grammar, Allen-Hadley
     (elective); the Iliad or Odyssey.
 Mental Philosophy—Porter's Elements of Intellectual Science;
     McCosh on the Emotions; Locke on the Conduct of the Human Understanding.
 Agricultural Chemistry—Lectures.
 Physiology—Huxley & Youman's.
 Shakspeare—"As You Like It," Rolfe's Edition.
 Milton—Samson Agonistes.
 English Literature—Morley & Tyler's Manual.
 Essays.
 Bible Studies—Smith's History of the New Testament.

SENIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

Natural Philosophy—Text-Book: Ganot's Physics, Atkinson's Edition.

Bartlett's Mechanics.

Greek History, Grote; Demosthenes; Plato; Greek Grammar, Allen-Hadley.

Logic—Bowen.

Moral Philosophy—Schwegler's History of Philosophy, and Porter's Elements of Moral Science. Lectures by the Professor.

Mental Philosophy—Lectures by the Professor.

Infinitesimal Calculus—Ray.

Original Problems in Mathematics.

Essays.

Evidences of Christianity—Fisher's Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief.

SECOND TERM.

Astronomy—Newcomb & Holden's.

Geology—Le Conte.

Political Economy—Perry.

Moral Philosophy—Porter's Elements of Moral Philosophy, and Schwegler's History of Philosophy.

Terence—Edition of Fleckeisen.

Latin Prose Composition.

Latin Grammar—Gildersleeve, Zumpt.

Dissertations and Forensics, through the year.

Infinitesimal Calculus—Ray.

History and Philosophy of Mathematics.

Essays.

Evidences of Christianity—Fisher's Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief.

INSTRUCTION IN GERMAN.

TEXT-BOOKS.—First Year.—Seldon's Short German Grammar; Whitney's German Grammar; Whitney's German Reader.

Second Year.—Whitney's German Grammar; Bodenstedt's Translation of "Hamlet"; Freytag's "Die Journalisten"; or Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell."

Flugel's Dictionary is recommended. Students advanced as far as the second year will find advantage in consulting Heyse's Schulgrammatik.

INSTRUCTION IN FRENCH.

TEXT-BOOKS.—First Year.—Whitney's "Practical French Grammar"; A. de Rougemont's "La France"; selected novels and plays.

Second Year.—Whitney's Grammar; Pylodet's "La Littérature Française Classique"; "La Littérature Française Contemporaine," by the same editor; Blouet's "L'Eloquence de la Chaire et de la Tribune Françaises"; Saintsbury's Selections of Sainte Beuve's "Causeries du Lundi."

MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

The studies of this department are confined to the Junior and Senior Classes. They include Psychology, Ethics, and the History of Philosophy. The compulsory text-book for the Junior year is Porter's Intellectual Science; the text-book for elective study, McCosh on the Emotions. The Senior Class will study Porter's Elements of Moral Science, and Schwegler's History of Philosophy (elective).

Essays will be required of both classes during each term, and a Philosophical Seminarium will be held weekly for twelve weeks with the Senior Class during the second term.

BIBLICAL STUDENTS.

The object of this course is to give our students such a connected view of the facts of the Old and New Testament History, and of the nations with whom the chosen people were providentially connected, that they will be intelligent readers of the Bible and of current literature, and at the same time to furnish them with such proofs of the authenticity and credibility of the Scriptures as will fortify them against the materialistic and skeptical tendencies of the age. Proficiency in this department is necessary to the attainment of any college degree, and every student is required to attend on one of its classes. One recitation a week will be held with each class throughout the course. The text-books are the Bible, Smith's Old and New Testament Histories, and Fisher's Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief.

MATHEMATICS.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are expected to have a thorough knowledge of Arithmetic; and it is very desirable that they should have some acquaintance with Algebra and Plane Geometry also. The class recites five times a week. The subjects taught are Algebra and Plane Geometry.

TEXT-BOOKS.—Wentworth's Complete Algebra, Wentworth's Plane and Solid Geometry.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

The Sophomore Class recites five times a week. The subjects taught are Algebra (completed), Elements of the Theory of Equations, Solid Geometry, Plane Trigonometry, Spherical Trigonometry, Land Surveying.

TEXT-BOOKS.—Ray's Higher Algebra, Wentworth's Geometry, Wheeler's Trigonometry, Wentworth's Surveying.

JUNIOR CLASS.

The Junior Class (elective) recites three times a week. The subjects taught are Analytical Geometry, Plane and Solid.

TEXT-BOOKS.—Puckle's Conic Sections, Venable's Notes on Solid Geometry.

SENIOR CLASS.

The Senior Class (elective) recites twice a week. The time is devoted to the study of the Differential and Integral Calculus.

TEXT-BOOKS.—Ray's Differential and Integral Calculus.

The careful, systematic study of the text-books is supplemented, when necessary, by explanatory lectures, and the progress of the student is tested by requiring the solution of original problems related to the work of the class-room.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION IN LATIN.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are expected to have a good acquaintance with the forms of Declension and Conjugation, and with the leading rules of Syntax as laid down in some grammar arranged for beginners, as Bingham's. They are expected also to have such facility in translating Latin prose into English as may be assumed, in ordinary cases, to be the result of two years' practice in the exercise, at the age of, say, 14-16.

The Freshman Class will be engaged during the first half session on the first part of McCabe's Bingham's Latin Grammar; on one of the Books of Cæsar's Commentaries de Bello Civili.

During the second half session this class will continue the study of Bingham's Grammar, including the Prosody, and will read one of the Books of Virgil's Æneid, or selections from Ovid's Metamorphoses (chiefly for scanning), and three of Cicero's Orations against Cataline. Exercises are required in Latin prose composition.

EDITIONS OF TEXTS.

For Virgil and Cicero, the editions of Allen & Greenough are recommended; for Cæsar de Bello Civili, Perrin's edition.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

The Sophomore Class will read, during the first half session, Cicero's Orations pro Milone and de Imperio Cn. Pompeii, and will study the Syntax and Prosody of Bingham's Grammar. During the second half session this class will read Selections from the Satires or Epistles of Horace, and the twenty-first and part of the twenty-second books of Livy. Exercises in the translation of English into Latin are furnished and required weekly throughout the year. In connection with these exercises, Zumpt's and Gildersleeve's Grammars are used.

EDITIONS OF TEXTS.

Chase's Edition of McLean's Horace, Allen & Greenough's Edition of Cicero, and Chase and Stuart's Edition of Livy, are recommended.

JUNIOR CLASS.

The Junior Class will read Tacitus' Dialogus de Oratoribus, and Agricola, or Quintilian's Tenth Book, Instit. Orat.; and study the Syntax of Gildersleeve's Latin Grammar. Zumpt's Grammar is used in connection with weekly exercises of translations from English into Latin.

EDITIONS OF TEXTS.

For Tacitus, a Leipsic edition of the simple text is recommended; and for Quintilian, Bonnell's edition.

SENIOR CLASS.

The Senior Class will read two or three of the Comedies of Terence, and, if there is time, something of Juvenal. This class is expected to use Gildersleeve's and Zumpt's Grammar in private; and one-sixth of its time spent in the study of Latin is devoted to the writing of exercises.

The final examination for graduation embraces a review of the whole previous course, and includes an extempore Latin composition.

G R E E K.

The complete course in Greek as given below is required for the degrees of Bachelor of Literature and Master of Arts. For the degree of Bachelor of Arts, the requirements vary according to the course selected, the classes compulsory and elective under the different schemes being indicated elsewhere.

Preparatory instruction has been given during the current year by the Fellow, students with no previous knowledge of Greek having been formed into a sub-Freshman Class.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are expected to have studied Greek about a year, and must be able to translate simple Attic prose.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

The class recites four times a week. Xenophon's Anabasis is read, and the grammatical work is a thorough review of Attic prose inflections and elementary syntax. One-fourth of the time of the class each week during the year is devoted to the study of History and Geography, the text-books being Fyffe's History of Greece and Tozer's Classical Geography.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

The class meets four times a week, and reads two Books of the Odyssey, selections from Xenophon's Cyropædia or Hellenica, and selected Orations of Lysias. The work in grammar includes the study of the formation of words, the syntax of the cases, and elementary syntax of the moods and tenses.

JUNIOR CLASS.

The regular Junior Class meets twice a week, and the elective Junior Class once a week, the work of the two classes being independent. The former class reads Lysias, for which Scheibe's Leipsic text is required, the Alcestis of Euripides and Demosthenes. This class studies the syntax of moods and tenses, the usage of the Attic orators being taken as a standard.

The elective Junior Class devotes its whole time to a rapid reading of selected portions of the Iliad or Odyssey.

SENIOR CLASS.

The class meets twice weekly from September until the final examination upon the whole course, (exclusive of the elective Junior Class,) in December. The study of syntax is continued. The authors read are Demosthenes and Plato. For historical study Grote is recommended.

The grammar used throughout the Greek course is Prof. Allen's edition of Hadley. This is supplemented, when needful, by the Professor.

With the design of cultivating nice and accurate observation in the student, written exercises in translating English into Greek are required in all classes, more time, however, being given to this work in the Sophomore and Junior than in the other classes.

The subject of Antiquities is taught, as occasion arises, in connection with the reading of each class, and versification during the reading of the Odyssey in the Sophomore Class and the Alcestis in the Junior.

The aim in the Greek course is to secure thoroughness in what is taught, rather than to go over a large extent of ground. If the student is to continue his Greek studies after leaving college, he will thus have a sure foundation to build upon; for those who will not continue the study of Greek, it is believed that the mental training acquired by close and careful study is more advantageous than the loose and superficial study of a more extended course.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Is taught in the Junior and Senior classes. The attention of the Junior Class is first given to a consideration of the general properties of matter, and of the forces manifested in cohesion, adhesion, capillarity, endosmose, crystallography, etc.

The subject of HEAT is then taken up, and studied carefully and quite fully. Its intimate relations to other modifications of motion and force are impressed upon the attention. Light is studied so far as is thought useful before entering upon the study of Chemistry. Electricity in its various modifications, and with its many useful applications, next occupies the attention of the class. Theoretical Chemistry, Inorganic and Organic Chemistry, Physiology and Hygiene, and Agricultural Chemistry are studied in the order given. The subjects are taught both by text-books and by lectures, and illustrated by experiments. Opportunities of exhibiting and impressing upon the attention the useful applications of Chemistry are improved as far as possible.

The Senior Class enters upon the study of Mechanics, including the Laws of Motion and the operation of the various forces of nature, as manifested in solids, liquids, and gases. The subject of vibrations and undulations is considered by way of preparation for the study of Acoustics and Optics, which latter is dwelt upon at much greater length and with much more particularity than could be done in the Junior Class.

Astronomy and Geology occupy the time of the class for the remainder of the session. With the use of the text-books the Professor makes such additions, suggestions, criticisms, or regular lectures as may seem important or necessary to the full elucidation and understanding of the subjects taught. Together with instruction in science, an effort is made to impart valuable information in regard to practical matters. Opportunities for elective study in Technology and Mechanical Philosophy will be offered.

The text-books in this department are, in the Junior Class, Youman's Class Book of Chemistry, Wurtz's Elements of Chemistry, Huxley and Youman's Physiology and Hygiene, Cooke's Chemical Philosophy, Wagner's Technology, and Johnston's Agricultural Chemistry. In the Senior Class, Ganot's Physics, Newcomb and Holden's Astronomy, Le Conte's Geology, and Bartlett's Mechanics.

GERMAN COURSE.

The course of instruction in German is arranged so as to be completed in two years. The nature of the instruction is indicated by the books which appear elsewhere in tabular statement. Translations into German during the first year are oral; during the second year the same are to be oral and written.

FRENCH COURSE.

The course in French, being limited to two years, is designed to give the student the ability to read French fluently, and to give him some acquaintance with the History of French Literature. During the first year the class meets twice a week, and once a week during the second. One main feature of the first year's work is the thorough study of verbs, regular and irregular. During the second half of the first year and the whole of the second, the student is assigned private reading in French, upon which there are monthly examinations. The text-books used in the course are given elsewhere.

ENGLISH COURSE.

The regular English course ends with the Junior year.

In the Freshman Class are taught English Grammar, Pronunciation, and the Elements of Rhetoric; in the Sophomore Class, Rhetoric, Anglo-Saxon, and the History of the English Language; in the Junior Class, English Literature.

Chaucer will be critically read in the Sophomore year, Shakspeare and Milton in the Junior, and the work throughout the course will be supplemented by readings, both in class and in private, in representative authors.

In the Freshman and Sophomore classes exercises in composition will be required every fortnight. The Junior Class will write essays twice—once during the shorter term, and again during the longer.

I. ENGLISH LANGUAGE, RHETORIC, AND ENGLISH LITERATURE.

The regular English course is finished in three years. The subjects studied during the first year are English Grammar and the Elements of Rhetoric; during the second, Rhetoric, Pronunciation, Anglo-Saxon, and the History of the English Language. Anglo-Saxon and the historical development of the language will be continued throughout the third year. Special attention will also be bestowed upon English Literature, and the critical study of Shakspeare's plays. The class-work during these three years, and also during the Senior year, will be supplemented, as far as practicable, by readings in the English classics.

II. HISTORY.

The course in History, which is an elective study, covers two years, there being one recitation a week each year. During this time special attention will be paid to the History of England and to the Constitutional History of the United States.

TEXT-BOOKS.—Green's Short History of the English People, Stephens's History of the United States.

III. LOGIC AND POLITICAL ECONOMY.

These studies are confined to the Senior year, Logic occupying the first term, and Political Economy the second. The course in Political Economy will be supplemented by selections from the "Questions of the Day" series, and by other economic tracts.

CIVIL ENGINEERING.

PROF. THORNTON.

Civil Engineering is taught by the Professor of Mathematics to those few students who desire such instruction, provided their state of preparation is such as to warrant their entry on technical study with reasonable hope of success. Special fee for instruction in this course, $25.

COMMERCIAL COURSE.

The Professor of Mathematics will give instruction in Book-keeping and Commercial Arithmetic. The purpose in view is to give a thorough knowledge of the Science of Accounts. The principles of Single and Double Entry Book-keeping are taught by practical exercises, illustrating all the various kinds of business transactions, and the student is made familiar with all business forms, such as Bills, Notes, Drafts, etc. Two recitations a week are held throughout the session.

TEXT-BOOKS—Bryant & Stratton's Book-keeping, Packard's Commercial Arithmetic.

The studies of this course are not required for any one of the degrees given.

PUBLIC LECTURES

Of a popular character will be delivered at suitable times during the session by gentlemen selected for the purpose, and for the coming year two of the lectures will be from the College Faculty.

GENERAL REMARKS.

At present each class will recite once a week on Bible Studies.

The Freshman Class will recite five times a week on Mathematics, four times on Greek, and three times on Latin and English each.

The Sophomore Class will recite five times a week on Mathematics, four times on Latin and Greek each, and twice on English.

The Junior Class will recite three times a week on Physical Science and on English, and twice a week on Moral Philosophy, on Latin, and on Greek.

The Senior Class twice a week on Moral Philosophy, English, Logic, Political Economy, and four times on Physical Science.

In the four classes, all of the studies above mentioned are necessary for the regular A. B. course, with the partial exception of Latin and Greek, either of which may alternate with French and German, according to a prescribed method, explained under the head of Degrees, p. 29.

In Elective studies, the Junior Class will recite three times a week on Mathematics, and once a week respectively on Moral Philosophy, Physical Science, Latin, Greek, and History; while the Senior Class will recite twice a week on Mathematics, and once a week respectively on Latin, Greek, Moral Philosophy, Physical Science, and History.

Hampden-Sidney professes to be a College merely, and not a University. She retains a curriculum of study which long time and varied experience has proved to be best adapted to effect a liberal education, as distinguished from education of a purely business or professional character. Students are prepared for the professional schools, whether secular or religious, of the very highest grade, or fitted for the proper discharge of the duties of an enlightened citizen. Believing that the culture of all the mental faculties, designed to be accomplished, is best effected by the complete and thorough mastery of what is taught, the catalogue of text-books is not so extended as to necessitate the hasty, superficial, and imperfect study and acquisition of the contents of books on a vast number of subjects, however valuable and important in themselves.

As everything cannot be taught within four years to youth of ordinary abilities, the attempt to do so is not made; but rather to do well and thoroughly what is professed to be done.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission into the College are examined by the Faculty, and placed in the class which they are prepared to enter. Candidates for admission into any particular class must stand an examination on all the course previously pursued by the class. In all cases the candidate is required to present satisfactory testimonials as to his moral character and standing in the institution which he last attended.

Students desiring to pursue a particular branch of study are permitted to enter any class in College for which they are found prepared, subject, however, to the direction of the Faculty in the amount of study required, which shall in all cases be equal to that of regular students. Applicants for admission should be present for examination the Tuesday before the session opens, or on the Tuesday before it closes.

Applicants for the Freshman Class found deficient in Latin, in Greek, or in Mathematics, will be instructed in the particular study in which they are unprepared by the Fellow and Instructor in Ancient Languages and Mathematics.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE.

The health and physical welfare of the students will be under the constant care of the College physician.

It is hoped that the friends of the College will come up to the help of those who have on hand measures to secure a well-appointed College gymnasium. This will be under the supervision of the physician, who, after careful examination of each student, will be able to advise with reference to physical exercise, so that imprudence may be avoided, and constitutional defect, as far as possible, remedied.

A fee of $3.00 is required of each student, and this will entitle him to the constant care and advice of the physician during the session without further charge.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the College is designed to aid the student in the development of the faculty and habit of self-government. To do this in a manner efficient and agreeable to the students themselves, the Board of Trustees, at their last Annual Meeting, following an example which has been found good in other institutions, established a

COLLEGIATE SENATE,

to consist of four members from the Senior Class, three from the Junior, two from the Sophomore, and one from the Freshman,—in each case to be elected by their classmates,—who, with the President of the College as their chairman, shall have charge of matters pertaining to good order and decorum in the institution.

This system is seen to be modelled after that of our civil government, and to be well adapted to train and prepare the student for the proper discharge of the duties of a good citizen.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

Students are required to attend prayers in the Chapel, Bible-class on Sunday, and Church in such place as their parents or guardians shall request; or, without such request, in the place appointed by the Faculty. The students, for the most part, belong to the Young Men's Christian Association, and the several classes have weekly prayer-meetings in addition to the weekly service conducted by the Y. M. C. A. in the chapel.

MONTHLY CIRCULARS.

Each Professor keeps a daily record of the attendance and recitations of the members of his classes, and at the end of every month a statement of the average standing in scholarship, the number of absences from recitations, chapel and church, and of the failures to recite, together with any improper deportment requiring particular notice, is transmitted to the parent or guardian of each student in the institution.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two examinations of all the classes, one in the middle of the session, and another at the close, conducted by each Professor in his own department. These examinations are usually written, but may be either oral or written, or both combined, and are designed to test thoroughly each student's knowledge of the studies of the session. The classes are divided into four divisions or grades, according to the results of the examination, and their sessional standing. Those in the first grade are announced at Commencement as distinguished. Those in the second grade are sustained and permitted to advance with the class, while those in the third grade cannot advance until they have been sustained on re-examination. Those in the fourth grade are not entitled to re-examination, which, however, in certain cases, may be granted by the Professor in charge.

The members of the Senior Class are examined on the studies of the course three weeks before Commencement.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS.

Students of the Junior and Senior Classes deliver original orations in the chapel at intervals during the session, and representatives from each of the Literary Societies, together with the members of the Junior Class, on 22nd of February.

VACATION AND COMMENCEMENT.

Commencement occurs annually on the Thursday following the second Tuesday in June. The vacation follows the annual Commencement, and continues until the Thursday after the first Tuesday of September.

Every student is expected to enter punctually on the first day of the session, or present to the Faculty satisfactory reasons for absence. Parents and guardians cannot be too careful in seeing that this rule is observed; for the loss of a few days at the beginning of the session is almost invariably followed by a loss of grade in class, and always subjects the student to hurried and embarrassed study. Parents and guardians are also earnestly requested not to permit their sons or wards to be absent during the College term.

DEGREES.

I. BACHELOR OF ARTS.

(1), This degree is conferred upon those who complete the following course, embracing (1), All the studies of the Freshman and Sophomore Classes; then (2), All of the compulsory studies of the Junior and Senior Classes, to-wit: Moral Philosophy, (including Bible studies), Physics, Latin, Greek, and English (including Logic and Political Economy), and (3), Either all the Mathematics of these two classes, or any two of the other elective studies, in both the Junior and Senior years; and

(2), Upon those who modify the course thus indicated by substituting French and German for one of the Ancient Languages, in which case one elective study must be taken in the Junior and Senior years; or also,

(3), Upon those who may prefer to modify the same course by dropping either Latin and Greek at the close of the Sophomore year, and substituting either French or German, in which case again one elective study must be taken in the Junior and Senior years.

II. BACHELOR OF SCIENCE.

For this degree it is required to take full courses in Moral Philosophy, Physical Science, Mathematics (including the electives in each), French, German, and English, including Logic and Political Economy.

III. BACHELOR OF LITERATURE.

The requirements for this degree are full courses in Moral Philosophy, Latin, Greek, French, German, English, with Logic and Political Economy, including the electives in each of these departments, and to pursue and complete the Mathematics through the Sophomore year, and Physical Science through the Junior year.

IV. MASTER OF ARTS.

For this degree full courses, including the electives, must be taken in Moral Philosophy, Physical Science, Mathematics, Latin, Greek, English, French, and German.

The course in Bible Studies must be taken in order to any one of the degrees given.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for the year, . . . . .	$60 00
Room rent for the year, . . . . .	12 00
Fee for contingent expenses, . . . . .	7 00
Matriculation fee, . . . . .	10 00
Deposit (which is returned if no damage is done), . . . . .	5 00
Board, $2.50 per week, half in advance in September and January, . . . . .	100 00
Washing, per month, $1.25, . . . . .	12 00
Fee for medical attention, . . . . .	3 00
Wood, $1.50 to $2 per cord, variable, say	10 00

Table board in private families, from $12 to $15 per month.

Members of the Junior Class in Chemistry pay a fee of $7.

Students who enter on the scholarships pay no tuition fees, but are liable for all the other charges, which, as well as the tuition fees, must be paid in advance. The incidental expenses will depend upon the habits of the student and the allowance from home. There is no more fruitful source of injury to the student than too large a supply of pocket-money.

Candidates for the Gospel ministry pay tuition fees, or not, as they prefer. The Faculty may remit all charges for tuition to sons of ministers of the Gospel, whenever it is desirable to do so.

HALLS AND LIBRARIES.

The halls of the Literary Societies are fitted up with great taste and neatness, and the libraries, containing about 3,500 volumes each, have been selected with care.

LOCATION, REMARKS, &c.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY COLLEGE is located in Prince Edward County, Va., and is reached by daily stage from Farmville, which is on the Southside portion of the Norfolk and Western Railroad. Connection with the telegraphic system of the country is made by telephone from the College to Farmville. The post-office is a money-order office. The locality proverbially one of the most healthy in Virginia. Union Theological Seminary is in its immediate vicinity, and the students of either institution have access to the lecture-rooms and libraries of the other, free of charge. The College is surrounded by a community distinguished for intelligence, morality, and piety, in the families of which students may enjoy all the social advantages consistent with a life of study. Its quiet situation in the country, removed from the bustle of life, and from the temptations incident to town or city, associated with the above-named advantages, renders this College one of the most desirable retreats to every student who aims to secure the thorough culture of his mind and heart, and the formation of correct ideas.
